Sardinia And Sicily Suffer Heavy Damage

Allies Resume Aid Attacks In Large Force Upon Italian Island Bases

THIRTY-NINE AXIS PLANES DESTROYED

By PIERRE J. HUSS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, In North Africa, June 19.—The Allied campaign to reduce to ashes the main Axis bases in the large islands of Sicily and Sardinia adjacent to the Italian mainland was resumed in force today with announcement that American flying fortresses, attacking in strength, administered a devastating blow to the Messina ferry terminal.

Other Allied craft hit the Mito airfield, also on Sicily, while the Port of Olbia, Sardinia, was blasted and three ships set afire and communications in southern Sardinia were cut up by American Warhawks.

Bag 39 Axis Aircraft
The United States fliers bagged a total of 39 Axis aircraft which attempted in vain to ward off the assaults.

The communiqué from Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's headquarters announcing the bombardments said that only "eight of our aircraft are missing from all these operations."

Cairo disclosed simultaneously that heavy Royal Air Force bombers of the Middle East command struck a new heavy blow at the Comiso airbase in Sicily, starting fires in hangars, workshops and dispersal areas.

The attacks were launched as it was learned through Italian broadcasts that Mussolini, fearing as

Believe Burma Drive Coming

Diplomatic Belief Is That Allies Plan Autumn Advance Upon Burma

By KINGSBURY SMITH
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, June 19.—Diplomatic belief that the United States and Great Britain are now definitely planning on an autumn campaign to recapture Burma and open the overland supply route to China was strengthened today by news of the change in the British high command in India.

Appointment of Gen. Sir Claude Auchinleck to succeed Field Marshal Sir Archibald Wavell as commander in chief of the British forces in India was considered a definite indication that advance plans for the Burma move are getting under way—though actual launching of the campaign may depend on the outcome of European developments this summer.

Removal of Field Marshal Wavell as commander in chief of the British forces in India is known to have been considered by American military and diplomatic officials, as well as by the Chinese, as an essential prerequisite to the launching of any major Allied drive in Burma.

BLAST DESTROYS COAST GUARD SHIP

Only Two Of Crew Of 60 Escape In Mystery Blast On U. S. Ship

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, June 19.—Loss of the U. S. coast guard cutter Escanaba remained shrouded in mystery today following a navy announcement that the vessel virtually disintegrated as the result of an explosion of undetermined origin.

Only two of the estimated ship's crew of 60 survived and they were unable to shed any light on the blast after they were picked up by another coast guard cutter in the North Atlantic.

The incident occurred while the Escanaba and other vessels were guarding a convoy and there was a possibility that the small, 718-ton ship was blown apart by a torpedo intended for some merchant ship.

Lost with about 58 members of the crew was the skipper, Lieut. Commr. Carl Uno Peterson, 36, of Newtonville, Mass.

"The ship sank so quickly it had not time to send out signals," the navy said.

Sinking of the Escanaba raised to 99 the total number of American naval vessels lost or destroyed to prevent capture since the outbreak of hostilities.

Allies Preparing For Offensive In Far East Is Belief

Appointment Of Gen. Wavell As Viceroy Of India Seen As Forerunner

SEPARATE COMMAND WILL BE ESTABLISHED

By CHARLES A. SMITH
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, June 19.—An early Allied move to seize the initiative in the Far East was seen today in announcement that a separate East Asia command will be established to conduct the war against Japan.

Further details on the plan were promised within a short time in a statement from No. 10 Downing street, residence of the prime minister, disclosing that Field Marshal Sir Archibald Wavell has been named viceroy of India. Wavell's post of commander-in-chief of British forces in India goes immediately to Gen. Sir Claude Auchinleck.

The announcement from the residence of Prime Minister Winston Churchill said that Wavell, who steps out of army life entirely and becomes a civilian, will be elevated to the peerage and henceforth will be known as Lord Wavell. Now in England, Wavell will return to India in the fall to take up his duties as viceroy at an annual salary of $80,000.

"It is proposed to relieve the com-

POLICEWOMAN MAKES TOUR TO QUESTION GIRLS

Mrs. Minnie P. McKibben, policewoman, conducted a tour of public places and streets after 11 p. m. Friday and questioned some girls but none 17 years old or under were found in public places or streets. She said today she seeks the cooperation of parents and said that operation of parents and said that enforcement of the curfew law and the prevention of possible delinquency here.

Volant Soldier Prisoner Of Japs

Walter McAnany of R. F. D. No. 3, Volant, Hears From Brother After 20 Months

After over 20 months of suspense, Walter McAnany of R. F. D. No. 3, Volant, who is employed by the Boyles Coal & Supply company, has learned that his brother, Pfc. Richard E. McAnany, is a prisoner of the Japs.

Private McAnany has been in the U. S. army for almost six years, and the last word the family had from him was in September 1941. He wrote to his brother in August of that year, stating that his time was about up, and that he would be home for Christmas. In September he wrote, stating that he was being sent to Manila, from Hickam Field, Honolulu. No further word was received until a telegram came last week, the war department informing the brother that Private McAnany was a prisoner of the Japs. Several days later, a letter came, with further details.

Private McAnany, who is 26 years of age, was in the Engineering Corps. His parents are deceased. Another brother, Private Frank McAnany, has been stationed at Pearl Harbor in the infantry forces. The brother has not been heard from since a month after Pearl Harbor, but he is believed to be safe and well.

At a special news conference, Davis also offered to step down from his government post if the slash of funds from his agency—voted by the House yesterday—was due to congressional antagonism to him as a personality.

He asserted: "It is more important to have the job than it is to have me here in Washington."

Report Germans Are Reinforcing Units In Balkans

Axis Fears Allied Thrust In This Area After Border Closing Move

SOUTHERN ITALY HAS MARTIAL LAW

By LEO V. DOLAN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, June 19.—The Germans were reported heavily reinforcing their units in the Balkans today to meet any Allied threat in that area of the continent as Italy declared nine provinces in the southern part of the mainland to be operational zones and placed them under martial law.

The moves by the German high command were undertaken following reports from Axis quarters of large-scale British troop movements in the Near East.

Nazi fears of an Allied thrust from this area stemmed from the recent closing and subsequent reopening of the frontier between Syria and Turkey by British military authorities.

Over 110 Performers In Circus Are Stricken By Food Poisoning

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, June 19.—More than 110 performers of the "greatest show on earth," including the world-famous clown, Felix Adler, were still in Washington hospitals today after being stricken with food poisoning.

An account this morning showed that 112 workers of the Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey circus remained in the hospitals, but none was in a serious condition. It was reported that at least 50 others had been given first aid.

The troupe was stricken after eating a salad prepared by circus chef last evening. Nevertheless, the show went on and few persons in the crowds knew that the dangerous stunt put on by the performers held the added risk that the workers might collapse any minute.

Army Will Give Up Use Of 206 Hotels In Next Few Weeks

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, June 19.—The war department announced today that it will give up 206 out of the 434 hotels now being used by the Army Air Forces, including 109 hotels at Miami, Fla.

The army, it was said, will start vacating the hotels around the middle of July and complete the move later in the summer.

The return of these hotels to civilian control will result in a reduction of the army's annual rental bill by $4,600,000, it was explained.

The army announced that it plans to continue use of the greater part of the leased hotels at Miami, Fla., but said that 109 out of 325 leases it holds there have been cancelled.

At Atlantic City, N. J., 35 out of 47 leases are being cancelled now by the army. Furthermore, leased facilities in Chicago, Ill.; Grand Rapids, Mich.; St. Petersburg, Fla., and surrounding area, and Boca Raton, Fla., will also be returned to their owners.

The famous Stevens Hotel in Chicago, which the army bought, will be vacated, it was said.

Subsidy Fight Goes To Senate

House Expresses Disapproval Of Subsidies In Food Price "Roll Back" Plan

DEMAND BUSINESS MEN AS DIRECTORS

By WILLIAM THEIS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, June 19.—Senate support for the furious house assault on the administration's price roll back program was forecast today by Sen. Taft (R) Ohio who applauded the lower branch for slashing OPA funds, outlawing its subsidy policy and directing the agency to replace its theorists with practical business men.

Taft, leader of the senate fight against subsidies, declared that the house action "places the burden of proof now squarely on the administration and the OPA."

Less Money For OPA
"I think the Office of Price Administration can get along with less money—I have always thought so," Taft said in commenting on the 35,000,000 cut in OPA funds imposed by the house in a series of legislative blows against the agency.

"I believe the senate will agree with the prohibition against subsidies, although generally I feel that perhaps food subsidies ought to be dealt with separately, rather than in an appropriation bill."

Although the house best the senate to the push on the subsidy issue, the matter is expected to come to a showdown in the upper chamber.

FARMERS NEED HELP RIGHT NOW

Urgent Need For Men To Help Harvest Hay Crop, Farm Labor Committee Says

Shortage of farm help has reached a critical stage right now, the Lawrence County Emergency Farm Labor Committee announced today in appealing to all who can assist in getting in the hay crop, to volunteer. Current wages are paid to those assisting, it is stated.

There is a shortage of grain to feed stock at the present time, and this situation can be relieved if the hay crop can be gotten in as early as possible. The hay is ready to be cut now, but scarcity of labor has put many farmers up against it.

Experienced men and older boys are asked to volunteer to help relieve this critical situation.

Blanks have been placed in six of the leading industries of the county, where men who can give a little of their time can register for this work. Others are asked to register at the Emergency Farm Labor office in the Pennsylvania Power company building on the Diamond.

THIEVES BUTCHER CALF IN FIELD

First Evidence Of "Black Market" Butchering Is Reported In County

First evidence of "black market" butchering was seen in Lawrence county Friday night when a calf of the herd of Robert A. Weingartner of the Butler road, was butchered in the field and the hide left where the butchering took place. The loss was discovered this morning by Scott Munnell, who works for Mr. Weingartner. The state police were notified and are investigating.

For several years Mr. Weingartner has been building up a registered herd of calves and this year a number of calves were born. The calf butchered Friday night was one of the youngest and was really too young for meat purposes.

Large Theft Of New Gas Ration Coupons Reported

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, June 19.—Theft of "T" ration coupons, worth 374,000 gallons of gasoline, from a shipment consigned to the ration board at suburban Wilkensburg was reported today by Pittsburgh district OPA officials.

The "T" coupons, which become valid July 21, replacing the "T" stamps currently used by commercial vehicle operators, were discovered missing after the shipment was delivered to the board headquarters in Wilkensburg.

Police and gasoline station operators were immediately put on the alert throughout the Pittsburgh district to watch for the stolen coupons.

The theft, the OPA explained, included 195 books of coupons, each valued at 1,920 gallons of gasoline.

Informal Poll Of Mine Workers Is Being Made

Lewis Postpones Meeting Of Policy Committee Until This Afternoon At 4 O'Clock

WAR LABOR BOARD DENIES WAGE BOOST

By PHILLIPS J. PECK
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, June 19.—While wildcat strikes spread through the coal fields, John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, today postponed a meeting of his policy committee for five hours while his aides conducted an informal poll among rank and file miners to determine whether they want to stage a third general wartime strike.

With the deadline of the present strike in the coal fields expiring Sunday midnight, many miners jumped the gun and quit work because the war labor board in Washington denied the union a "general wage" increase. By mid-morning, more than 12,000 miners in Alabama, Pennsylvania and Ohio had quit work in protest and others joined the no-work parade as the day passed.

Conference Postponed
Lewis called a meeting of the union's policy committee for 11 a. m., but later announced the conference had been postponed until 4 p. m. This meant that the UMW decision on whether there would be a new general coal strike while the country is at war would be decided.

Russians Make Some New Gains

Germans Ousted From Strategic Positions In Orel Sector Says Moscow

By NATALIA RENE
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

MOSCOW, June 19.—The Germans suffered new reverses in the crucial Orel battle sector today when red army units, defying a move by the Nazi high command to send reinforcements, launched a strong attack and ousted the Germans from additional strategic positions.

The Soviet assaults, said the noon communiqué of the red army high command, were launched northwest of Orel, 40 miles northeast of Moscow, and resulted in Russian occupation of more advantageous positions.

First reports of the action said 100 Germans were killed and much war material was seized.

The front was ablaze on several sectors with heavy artillery exchanges.

Nazis Bring Up Reinforcements
Announcement of the Russian attack was made after official red army quarters revealed that the Germans, making desperate efforts to hold in the area north of Orel after failure to recapture lost territory in several costly counterattacks, were bringing up reinforcements.

Fighting in the last few days alone, the high command said, has cost the Germans at least 2,000 dead. In addition Soviet units knocked out of action 18 Nazi tanks and dozens of other vehicles.

Senator Suggests Some Territorial Possessions Be Accepted In Peace Settlement

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, June 19.—Sen. Robert R. Reynolds (D) N. C., chairman of the state military affairs committee, today proposed that the United States "accept" some territorial possessions in the war peace settlement.

"We are becoming a 'have-not' nation," said Reynolds in explaining his proposal. "We are depleting our forests, depleting our mines and emptying our pockets of oil."

He suggested that the United States be given Dutch, British and French Guiana in the Caribbean, the French islands of Miquelon and St. Pierre in the north Atlantic, other land in the western hemisphere needed for military purposes, and islands in the Samoan area in the Pacific.

Seek Title To Wrangel
He also urged that the United States seek claim title to Wrangel island in the Arctic, now claimed by Russia.

PA NEW OBSERVES

Tonight will be the first Saturday night under the new curfew law regulations for the boys and girls of New Castle. Police have been directed to enforce the provisions of the new law effectively. Boys and girls 17 years of age or under must be off the streets by 11 o'clock p. m. and out of public places by the same hour, unless accompanied by parent or guardian.

Organized programs at ten New Castle playgrounds will get under way on Monday, it is announced. These playgrounds are in all sections of the city, and should result in less use of the streets as public playgrounds, officials believe.

Sunday will be quite generally observed in this city as the annual "Father's Day."

About five weeks ago, Mr. Green states, a woodpecker drilled a hole in the soft part of one of much shortened limbs for the purpose of making a nest. The woodpecker had occupied the prepared nesting place for about a "nebbly" starlings, that evidently coveted that location as an ideal place for its nest. It found it occupied and started out to oust the woodpecker and the fight started: the starling went in on top of the woodpecker finally bringing the latter out by the neck. The starling now in possession, built its nest and was raising its young. Friday morning, says Mr. Green, a fox

Ladies Chorus Of Standard Steel Springs Co. Sings At Deshon Hospital

CHECKS PRESENTED TO VETERANS ALSO

Convalescent veterans in the Deshon hospital at Butler and officers and nurses enjoyed a program Friday night presented by the Ladies' Chorus of the Standard Steel Springs company. The program was presented in the auditorium of the hospital with William Richards directing the chorus and Miss Olive Webb at the piano.

Included in the program of choral, vocal and instrumental numbers were some ballads and a number of modern songs that were given generous applause by the soldiers and nurses present. Midway in the program Director Richards asked the crowd to join in and led a period of pep singing.

Joseph Waskins, representing the United Steel Workers Local 2646, presented Col. J. Gentzkow, commander of the hospital, with a check for $100 to be added to the entertainment fund for the hospital. Following this presentation Miss Olive Webb, accompanist for the chorus, presented Col. Gentzkow with a check for $186 for the same purpose. The commandant expressed his appreciation for the contributions which will be added to the fund used for entertainment at the hospital.

The Standard Steel Springs Ladies' Chorus is a comparatively new musical organization but it has a lot of possibilities. The voices are young and fresh and within a few months the chorus should be an attraction that will be sought after.

mander-in-chief in India of conduct of the war against Japan and establish a separate East Asia command," said the statement concerning the return to command in India of Gen. Auchinleck.

The London press applauded the appointment of Wavell and also warmly welcomed the recall of Gen. Auchinleck to India.

Separate Command

Establishment of a separate Far East command, said the military expert of the Daily Herald, indicates the first stage in a change-over from the defensive to the offensive in the Far East.

It can be assumed, the writer said, that operations against Japan in the future will be carried out almost entirely outside of India. The new commander-in-chief in the Far East will concern himself only with the conduct of operations—a full-time job—it was added.

The military writer of the Times anticipated that the new East Asia command will be relatively small and mobile.

Avid speculation was begun immediately on the identity of who will be given this command. Obviously, all agreed, he will be a forceful and dynamic figure with a thorough knowledge of Japanese war methods.

The consensus in the British capital is that President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill chose the commander during their May conferences in Washington when Wavell and American Lieut. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell, commander of Allied forces in China and American units in the India Burma area, were present in the American capital.

Opinion appeared about evenly divided as to whether an American or a Briton would get the command.

Mass Nazi Troops

The massing of large numbers of German troops, guns, and dive-bomber squadrons in a satellite Bulgaria, particularly in the Plovdiv area, was reported in an Istanbul dispatch to the Daily Telegraph.

An estimated 60 divisions of Axis troops, including 15 to 20 Italian divisions, now are being held in readiness throughout the Balkans.

Three fresh divisions of Germans were reported to have arrived in Bulgaria while three other divisions have been sent into Salonika, Greece, the military writer of the Daily Express said. Other forces are stretched out along the coast of Greece.

Reinforce Garrisons

While the garrisons on the Dodecanese and Cyclades islands are Italian, advice reaching London said that the Nazis had sent German reinforcements into those outposts to bolster the Italians and supervise the defenses.

Part of the total German and Italian troops units in the Balkans are constantly occupied in battles against insurgents in Yugoslavia, Greece and Albania which are ready to strike the Axis forces from the rear in event of an Allied drive through this part of Europe.

Announcement of the order placing southern Italian provinces under military rule was made in a broadcast dispatch by the Italian Stefani news agency.

ber next week. But for the moment the house action—farther anything the bill taken place so far in the 78th congress.

Changes Made

Triumphant in their anti-OPA campaign, house Republicans, who were joined in several instances by aroused Democrats, won approval of amendments to the 1944 war agencies appropriation bill which:

1. Slashed the OPA fund from $135,000,000 to $130,000,000. The roll call vote on this amendment by Rep. Dirksen (R) Ill., who demanded a "cure for OPA now," was 183 to 147.
2. Banned food subsidy payments in another Dirksen amendment which prohibits payment of salary or expenses any OPA official who authorizes or makes subsidy payments. The teller vote on this was 160 to 206.
3. Withheld salary funds from any official making price orders who has had less than five years practical experience in the business affected by the price regulation issued—a congressional swing at OPA economists and so-called "long-haired professors" of the Federal Reserve Board. The roll call vote on this amendment was 188 to 144 roll call.
4. Outlawed payment of any 1944 money for the promulgation of grade labeling or standardization programs by OPA—one of the most sharply criticized price control policies. This amendment by Rep. Andersen (R) Minn., went over by a standing vote of 140 to 85.
5. Prohibited use of appropriated money in carrying out any "roll back" on any commodity not an actual "necessity" or, in the case of farm products, which has not reached parity price level. This revision was sponsored by Rep. Sauthoff (P) Wis., and was adopted, 229 to 105, on a roll call vote.

INFORMAL POLL OF MINE WORKERS IS BEING MADE

laid until 32 hours before the trace expires.

According to reports, the postponement was caused by the desire of Lewis and members of the policy committee to check the sentiment of rank and file miners back in coal producing states.

It heightened the danger of a widespread strike despite the fact that the WLB had ordered the miners to sign a no-strike agreement with the coal operators for the duration of the war. It was against this tense background that members of the UMW policy committee gathered.

May Rock W. L. B.

The UMW decision not only holds the key to peace in the war-vital coal fields, but also may rock the national labor front. The fiery labor leader and the 200-man governing body of the union had only two alternatives:

1. To accept the war labor board's denial of a pay raise and drop their three-month, strike-ridden battle to obtain more money for the miners to offset higher living costs.
2. To reject the government's ultimatum and permit another walkout to occur when the current strike expires tomorrow.

The nation, meanwhile, waited to learn whether President Roosevelt will sign the drastic Smith-Connally anti-strike bill during the day. If the president signs the measure it will take effect immediately, putting its powers to life before the coal strike trade ends. The bill imposes penalties of one year imprisonment, $5,000 fine or both on anyone instigating or encouraging a walkout in government-operated plants or mines.

Await Anti-Strike Action

If the measure is made law and Lewis should allow another strike in the coal fields he would face the harsh penalties.

Mr. Roosevelt may brush aside the CIO-AFL demands that he veto the bill and sign the legislation in an effort to thwart another coal strike and its attendant threat to war production. The two big labor organizations have threatened to withdraw their members from the WLB in that event.

Such a withdrawal presages the collapse of the board as an arbiter of war-time labor disputes and the spread of labor unrest.

Labor members of the WLB dissented from the board's action of refusing the miners payment for underground travel but joined in a warning to Lewis against another strike.

Warn Against Strike

"We agree with the majority of the board in upholding the necessity for honoring the no-strike pledge by all labor," the group said.

Public and industry WLB members went further to order the miners and operators to sign a contract incorporating a provision for no strikes for the duration of the war.

The WLB's ruling came on the controversial question of payments to the miners for time spent in traveling from the entrance of the mine to their place of work. Lewis originally sought $2.25 a day in portal pay and then offered to compromise on $1.50.

The board rejected the demand as an "indirect wage increase" in violation of the national stabilization policy, allowing the miners only 18 to 25 cents a day additional in increased vacation pay and payment for tools and safety equipment by the mine owners.

No Portal Award

WLB Chairman William H. Davis asserted that it was "obviously impossible" for the board to approve a portal-to-portal award.

"It would fly in the face of decision after decision of this board"

URGES U. S. TAKE SOME TERRITORY

senate speech by Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge (R) Mass., in which he said that the United States should acquire "in a just and peaceful manner some things which we might lack."

"I am not going to suggest territorial acquisitions as such, but we might accept some lands in part payment on the debts of World War Nos. 1 and 2," said Reynolds.

"We might accept French, Dutch and British Guiana. They abound in minerals and could be developed into rubber producing countries. We might have San Pierre and Miquelon as outposts in the north Atlantic, and such British outposts in the Samoan area as are needed to protect the Hawaiian islands."

Reynolds asserted that Wrangel island in the Arctic will become of vast importance when super air transportation is developed.

"We would not be aggressors if we asked these possessions in part payment on our debts," said Reynolds.

"The territory is in the western hemisphere and the scope of the Monroe doctrine."

Reynolds predicted that the American public debt will be $500,000,000,000 before the war is concluded and prosperity restored.

stroyed 12 big guns, 40 machine guns and shot down 15 German planes.

The resumption of bitter battles on the vital Orel sector, fusion point of the southern and central fronts, was accompanied by exchanges of heavy air assaults.

The noon communiqué said that Soviet airmen had raided a Nazi airbase somewhere in the vicinity of the Leningrad battle area and damaged a large number of German machines caught on the ground.

Earlier it had been announced that the Soviet air force in a night raid hit several airdromes and that the bombing of the German bases was particularly effective. One assault was made on an airdrome in the Donets river basin where numerous other grounded planes were smashed.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

EARLY CHARACTER BUILDING

As never before, our parents should try to enlist our girls in Brownies, Bluebirds, Girl Scouts, Campfire Girls, Girl Reserves, 4-H clubs and the like. Moreover, we need to hold ourselves ready to volunteer to lead such groups. These character building agencies are of rare value now to our daughters and other people's daughters, our community and our country.

You see, the upswing of delinquency among girls, especially from 10 to 15, is appalling and many of them from "good" families. The other day the mayor of a certain city told me he walked about his city a few nights to ascertain what was happening and was shocked at seeing so many girls, some not over 10 or 12, hanging about groups of service men. He said: "These girls will approach the men, seize them by the hand or arms, even throw their arms about them and ask for a date. What amazed me most," he added, "was how well these young girls were dressed and the number I recognized from fine families."

Lays Blame On Parents.
Another mayor told me recently, in a city of 25,000, "when our police pick up a girl 13 or 14 years of age with a man in uniform late at night and take her home the parents abuse the officer for interfering with their daughter's rights."

While sitting in on a conference, in the office of the Juvenile Court not long ago, in a large city, with representative civic and welfare leaders of that city, I heard the judge say, "These very young delinquents are coming from all social and economic levels, only many influential parents have a way of keeping their offending sons and daughters out of the court room."

A school superintendent present said the hope is to arouse in the rank and file of parents, especially parents of influence, a sense of their responsibility, through the PTA, church and civic clubs.

Need Leaders.
It was agreed in the conference that parents need to exercise far more control over their children. Beginning when the child is young, they should keep their children off the streets after dark, have with good times at home and provide more community recreation and get back of the character building agencies; that, moreover, the "good" parents by precept and example set the patterns in these matters in their respective neighborhoods.

But everywhere throughout the nation those promoting and directing these character building agencies say that it is hard to find enough capable and responsible men and women to volunteer as leaders of Scout troops, or as Campfire Guardians, teachers in Sunday school, and the like.

Yet in practically any community there are many able men and women, especially women, who could render such services well if they only felt a keener sense of social responsibility. Our boys and girls are surely worth saving. While their brothers and fathers are offering their lives in all parts of the world to save our democratic ideals, why should there be so many slackers back on the home front? Is any man or woman too important to give some time to other people's children?

Solving Parent Problems.
Q. How can I train my 20-month-old son to stay off the road. We have a corner house, but there is plenty of lawn all around for him to play on.

A. Set aside a week or two for this purpose. Be with him always when he is on the lawn. If no car is approaching, let him choose to step off into the road, but the instant he does, smack him soundly. Repeat this treatment till he is "cured." Be sure not to yell at him to deter him or pull him back, unless a car is coming. Let him always choose and always get immediate punishment. Eventually he will be so definitely and strongly connected with going into the road alone that he will keep himself on the lawn even though you be away.

Q. We are going to move into another city soon. How can we safely choose a doctor for our little child?

A. Write to the Medical Academy or association of that city for the names of approved doctors, or have your present doctor recommend one or more to you.

The war effort must be advanced, but not at a sacrifice of the morals, the character and the physical well-being of the children who will be the citizens of tomorrow.

SEEK FEDERAL PAYROLL REDUCTIONS

RETURNING to its attack on the swollen Federal payroll, the Congressional economy committee now calls for a cut of 300,000 employees. This may seem a rather large order until it is considered that it would affect only 10 per cent of the total.

That fact brings home to the taxpayers the extraordinary expansion of the government's civilian establishment that has taken place in the last 10 years and particularly since the beginning of this war in 1939.

At that time there were 932,000 civilian workers, twice as many as at the start of the first World War. The ratio in that war was one civilian employee to five soldiers. Today it is one to two and a half.

If there were necessary work for all these three million officeholders, no one would begrudge the expenditures. A two-year study of the situation convinces the Byrd committee that the government is heavily overstaffed.

The committee answers a question, sure to be asked, when it states that 55 per cent of these civilian employees are not engaged in mechanical war production. It had been asserted that the majority were working in shipyards or arsenals.

In recently announcing that it would drop 100,000 employees within the next six months, the War department seems to have anticipated the Byrd committee's sweeping recommendations. The department's payroll now includes 1,305,000 of these workers, compared with 140,000 in 1939.

At a time when the American people are forced to economize on every hand to meet their tax bills and costs of living the government should set the example. The Byrd committee has shown where to begin.

MOUNTING TRAVEL FIGURES

Railroad men employed in passenger traffic are amazed by the mounting tide of travel. Railroad traffic has never been confronted by a similar congestion in passenger space, and there is every indication that the peak has not been reached.

A survey prepared by the Pullman company shows that in four months in 1943, 3,193,000 persons were carried in mass troop movements, or 79 per cent more than in the corresponding period of 1942. Since Pearl Harbor the railroads have carried 11,000,000 troops, not including troops on leave. The regular passenger load of the railroads is three or four times the average in pre-war times.

At the present rate of 2,000,000,000 passenger miles a month, sleeping car traffic may reach a total of 25,000,000,000 miles this year. The previous high record in passenger miles was 19,000,000,000 in 1942.

To meet this mounting demand operations have been speeded up, space has been given the most intensive use possible, and cars are traveling 41 per cent more miles a day than in 1941.

MOTHERS IN WAR WORK

One of the dangerous aspects of the disruption of normal home life in consequence of the allurements of high pay for women in industry has received dramatic emphasis lately through the alarming increase in juvenile delinquency. Undoubtedly, the home is suffering and the morals of children are being impaired in consequence of the laxity in control and even the neglect resulting from the abandonment by many mothers of their household responsibilities.

It is undeniably true that many mothers, even those with small children who require constant attention and care, are finding it difficult to resist the attractive pay in industry. In some measure, the increasing wariness of youth is attributable to lack of parental supervision and control while smaller children are suffering in many ways, including inadequate nourishment, from neglect.

A concrete example of this deplorable condition was brought to light in a Detroit court a few days ago when a mother who protested that she had the best job she had ever had in her life was arraigned for failing to give proper care to her two young children. This woman was ordered by the court to remain at home and care properly for her children or face criminal prosecution.

The war effort must be advanced, but not at a sacrifice of the morals, the character and the physical well-being of the children who will be the citizens of tomorrow.

FUTURE OF LIBERAL ARTS

Perhaps President MacCracken of Vassar was not overly optimistic when he told the graduating class that there was no ultimate menace to the future of the liberal arts through the emphasis the war puts on scientific training and applied science. But there are numerous educators who are plagued by misgivings.

Some feel that the hand the government has laid, because of war needs, upon American collegiate life may not be easily withdrawn. Still more hold the view that economic preservation in the post war era will make many state institutions and some none too well endowed private ones amenable to what official Washington may be maintaining as adequate educational standards.

It is because the improvement of material well-being the world over will be the problem of first magnitude after the war, that the intensive employment of scientific means to that end is regarded as liable to overshadow, if not swamp, what is known as cultural education. It may be that the distinction between cultural and vocational education has been too sharp, even "inherited from a snobbish past," as Doctor MacCracken says. But he and men like Presidents Conant of Harvard and Dodds of Princeton are determined that the end-all of formal schooling shall not be the means of earning a livelihood. Says Doctor MacCracken:

"Culture is rather to be redefined in the language of anthropology as the sum total of what has been done in the world, as the total way of mankind through the ages, everything history can tell us and every other thing science and art can interpret and explain."

For years to come it is more than probable that leading colleges and universities will not offer as wide a choice of electives as in the past. But if they are not recreant to their best traditions, they will not turn their backs upon those subjects that have tended to elevate the human spirit and broaden its understanding of life. Princeton's decision, even if with a reduced program, to keep intact its liberal arts faculty is one to inspire waverers.

All too readily do latter-day "experts," feeling themselves the messiahs of a new dispensation, urge the lopping off of studies like Latin and Greek to a relative handful of students, despite their contributions to the best understanding of English and the romance languages.

HINTS AND DINTS

Sun sets tonight 8:31. Sun rises tomorrow 5:30.

People are learning a lot of things that will help them when the war is over, but the war will be over before they get much benefit out of them.

There are a many people who never did care very much for canned food and they will miss it much now.

The invention most needed by churches now is a collection plate that can be passed by radio.

There is one thing you can be sure of after the war is over and that is taxes will be higher. Winning the war will be worth all it costs. The main thing is to save the lives of our soldiers.

If you apologize to a stuffed shirt, he will think it a sign of weakness; then he will insult you simply because it seems safe.

CURIOUS CYNIC CANTS
...some men prefer stout girls and some prefer them thin but it is well to remember it is a lot easier to get along with a plump girl with curves than a slim girl with nerves.

...if you want to eat a sandwich without someone staying: "Gimme a bite"—don't get married. ...women are hard losers...if you don't believe it, just watch one who is trying to reduce.

...yep, we know it is the nature of a satin comfort to slide a little but what we can't seem to understand is why it always seems to slide to the wife's side of the bed?

We suppose the post war period will be no different from the last war...some Allied General will say they could have won the war without the help of the U. S. Army and we'll say: "Gosh, we wish you had."

About the only thing easy to get now is to get into jail.

The cemeteries are filled with people who thought the world could not get along without them.

A California judge sentenced a man to buy $200 worth of War Bonds or go to jail for 90 days. After being in jail two hours he decided to buy the War Bonds.

At an election meeting Charlie had been talking for an hour, and there were signs that his audience were becoming restive. Suddenly a voice shouted, "Take off your hat!" Charlie looked surprised. "What hat?" he asked.

"The one you're talking through."

It takes a lot of planning to go anywhere just now. It's also often hard to make an excuse for going some places when the police are around.

A case was on trial in a Texas court. The prosecuting attorney had encountered a somewhat difficult witness. Finally he asked the man if he was acquainted with any of the men on the jury.

"Yes, sir," announced the witness, "more than half of them."

"Ahe you willing to swear that you know more than half of them?" demanded the lawyer.

"Why, if it comes to that, I'm willing to swear that I know more than all of them put together."

DON'T DRESS TOO YOUTHFULLY

"I am nearing the dreaded 45 mark and have a horror of dressing either too young or too old for my age. Please give me the benefit of your wise advice."

To this plea, just received in the mail, I have answered: Let your day wear become more and more tailored. Avoid, as you would poison, a superabundance of beads, bar pins, flounces, lacey fur-trimmed and other "trimmings" that give so many middle-aged women a kittenish effect. If you are a stout, avoid lustrous or stiff fabrics, plaids or other conspicuous surface patterns, also bright colors in large areas. If thin, avoid angles in the lines of your dresses, flat, tight waists, sleeves so short that they show the bones of your arms; also raglan sleeves in your raincoat or other top coats.

Shun the "Junior Miss" Department, no matter how petite and girlish your figure is. The "Juniors" used to be a size and not an age; but, as you realize if you frequent that department, it is definitely an age and not a size. These girlish models are ludicrous if worn by anyone above thirty and most women above twenty-five. Shop instead at the Misses Department even if you must have alterations on 10's and 12's, as I do.

Question: Frequently when I ride in a pay-as-you-leave bus, I meet and sit with men of my acquaintance. I never know whether I should pay my own fare or let the man (whom I met by chance) pay it. If he offers should I let him pay—Gwen.

Answer: Have your fare ready and hand it to the conductor if possible without letting the man see you get the coin from your purse. If he does see you, doubtless, he will offer to pay, to which reply: "I have the change right here." If he insists, and he should not, let him pay, to avoid any embarrassing discussion.

THE ICONOCLAST SAYS

Women's styles have undergone many changes in the past 150 years but the garments of man have remained much the same thru the past several generations.

But we are due for a change in the basic American male costume.

Why? Because millions of young Americans will come home after the war accustomed to the new Army practice which has given its stamp of approval to wearing a shirt plus tie (not a bow tie either) plus trousers perfectly correct and acceptable as warm weather parlor wear.

In World War I, soldiers wore coats in summer as well as winter—light weight but still coats and still hot. Today's regulations permit officers and men alike to attend theaters and other public functions comfortably in what civilians might term "shirt sleeves."

The Zoot-suit fad, knee length coat as well as baggy reaf-length pants has ended its era in public popularity—particularly with the men in uniform. So, the swing will be away from the bizarre costume to the more conservative garb which might be called "shirt sleeves."

It will be a swing away from one extreme to the other but this time to more sanity in garb, more utilitarian for general and even semi-formal wear.

We may retain the sack suit for winter wear but for warmer weather, we'll shed the coat, just as most men have shed the vest or "waist-coat" (wescot). Yes, we will discard the overcoat which was a holdover concession to the Bear Skin or Buffalo coat our grandfathers wore for zera weather.

Shirt Sleeve garb is not new. Time was in the not so long ago when gentlemen would not be admitted to the better clubs, hotels and restaurants unless wearing a coat. Appearing in shirt sleeves was not modest...it simply wasn't done.

Thank goodness, the war is changing all that and we men can be comfortable in warm weather.

Because of the war imposed restrictions on travel we are planning to spend our vacation this year at the same place we didn't want to go last year.

The lemonade will not be so sweet either this summer.

In Washington it is claimed that Americans are making more purchases by cash, buying less on credit and using surplus funds to pay off old debts. Not bad.

"I don't mind your beau smoking my cigars, but why must he take my morning paper when he says good night?"

It takes time for natural gallantry to wear off completely. Man still holds fast to his seat in the crowded bus, while women stand, though he fidgets a little.

Nervous exhaustion is not the result of having a tough job, but of taking it too seriously.

Ask him whether Japan or Germany is our worst enemy, and you can tell which Coast he lives near.

The real Roosevelt haters are those in high place who hate to see anybody else running things.

The solution is not universal agreement. If all people had the same ideas, clashing personalities would still fight.

Italy Without Fascism Would Find Friends
Germans However Must Be Well Re-Educated
Samurai In Japan Would Be Sizable FactorBy CHARLES P. STEWART
(Central Press Columnist)

WASHINGTON, June 19—Italy is only a temporary problem, according to such high authorities as President Roosevelt and British Prime Minister Churchill. It is true that, at their Casablanca conference, the Anglo-American pair demanded an unconditional surrender by the Italians as by any of the rest of the Axis folk. Winston, however, subsequently said that the United Nations do not rate the Italian rank-and-file in a class with the Fascist group and do not intend to be harsh with them on the question of final peace terms.

Later P. D. R. stated, more personally but also more specifically, that so far as the democracies are concerned, the Italian masses will be welcome to frame their subsequent government to suit themselves, once they have kicked Benito Mussolini out. Of course, it is reckoned that Benito does have a small parcel of Fascist followers in his train, who will have to be abolished also, but it is not considered as above a mere handful—not enough to signify in a post-war readjustment process.

Well, suppose Il Duce is wished out of the picture. I do not believe the average American would insist on having him killed.

Germany and its Fuehrer are peculiarly different.

The Germans, on an average, are as closely related to our Yankee amalgamation as the Italians are. Indeed, they are very closely affiliated with us.

Concerning the Germans, though, there is no talk of a post-war German-American affiliation. Nor is it suggested that peace should be

SAUCE FOR THE GOOSE

I believe that every citizen of this nation is conversant with the literature which has been broadcasted from the headquarters of the various Bureaus of this Bureaucracy of ours. When the citizen applies for a ration card he is warned on the printed form that it is offered to him for the purpose of making his application, that any lying or deceit practiced in obtaining the ration card is punishable by a fine of $100 and imprisonment.

In the case of a merchant, particularly of food, the merchant is warned that if he sells articles for sale at the ceiling price of any commodity sold by him, he is likewise subject to a fine and imprisonment.

So on down the list regulating the ceiling price of rents and all that sort of thing. Any violation is punishable by fines and imprisonment.

The Office of Price Administration is very busy these days. Snooters and snobs are employed to ferret out any and all violators of the rules and regulations of this Bureau. I know of several instances where grocery men have been hauled into court and given very stiff fines for asking a very small sum more than the ceiling price for this or that article.

It requires a great deal of attention and care to label all articles for sale properly and keep them in their proper places. And many of these offenses are caused by articles getting out of place, either by carelessness or stupidity, or changes

Well, a probing committee in Washington found nine boxes of important papers in the home of an ex-executive of OPA and that indicates what government wives have to put up with.

A government wife just gets the house in order when a van backs up to the door and the men start moving boxes and barrels into the living room.

In comes her husband and she says, "What's goin' on here?" He says, "Well, I got the brush—I'm out of a job—some dirty fascist want the country made over today."

She says, "But what in the world are those boxes and barrels?" He says, "Oh, just a few notes I scratched on the back of old envelopes."

She says, "What are you going to do with those boxes and barrels?" He says, "They'll have to be there's another load coming that will fill the dining room, kitchen and bedroom."

She says, "How about the bathroom?" He says, "I thought of that—we can sleep there. You take the tub."

Thought for the day: This newspaper has been ordered to cut its newsprint use because of the paper shortage.

Great Game Of Politics

"Patronage Grab"

WASHINGTON, June 19. THE PRESIDENT is right in his opposition to the McKellar bill requiring Senate confirmation of all Federal employees receiving $4,500 a year or more. It is a bad bill which would damage the war effort, further steep the Federal service in politics, lessen the morale and effectiveness of some 30,000 appointees—none too good as it is.

THERE is ground for regarding it as a patronage grab. There is justification for Mr. Roosevelt's reference to it as a measure which would be "folly" in peacetime but is "little less than tragic" in a time of war. There will be justification for his veto if the House follows the Senate example and passes it. And there is reason for regret that so many Democratic Senators, who have inveighed against Administration politics in the midst of war should open themselves to the same charge.

NEVERTHELESS, the high plane upon which both the Presidential and Senatorial opposition took their stand seems just a little too lofty to fit the facts. For example, twenty of the twenty-nine opposing votes came from Republicans. On the surface, this would seem very noble, indeed, of the Republicans. Here they are almost solidly supporting the President against a political effort of his own party to hamper and embarrass him in the conduct of the war. It is painful to spoil so beautiful a party picture and, maybe, one should accept that Republican support at face value.

HOWEVER, THE practical, underlying reality is that, belonging to the minority party, the Republican Senators would get none of the juicy patronage which the McKellar bill, if enacted, would make available. The Democrats would get it all and naturally that would not be beneficial to Republican chances in the districts and States. Perhaps, this has nothing to do with the Republican attitude, but it is the sort of fact that should not be ignored.

AS TO THE President, his righteous indignation, evinced in his letter to Mr. Wallace, over the playing of politics in a time of war, would be much more impressive if it had not come the day after Mr. Frank Hague, the New Jersey boss for whom he has made some particularly offensive wartime appointments, declared in favor of a fourth term, or if it had not been followed by the appointment of a New York District Attorney made for Mr. Michael J. Kennedy, head of Tammany Hall, who is also for the fourth term and is based upon a preliminary firing squad for Herr Hitler. Contrariwise, it is argued that the first step should be in the direction of the Germans' own extinction of Adolf. It is represented that the Fatherland's Junker element is on the eve of eliminating the Fuehrer himself, for having botched his job. Gossip is that he has lost all his authority at home—that his military chiefs have supplanted him and threaten to bump him off speedily.

INSIDE WASHINGTON

The supposition is that, if so, the Teutonic militarists will seek a negotiated, temporary peace to enable them to get into action again.

They are recognized as a CLASS, like the Italian Fascist class but a far stronger and more permanent class than the latter, and one that can't be trusted, as perhaps the little Fascist bunch may be.

Consequently, no such overtures are made in the direction of the Germans generally as are hinted popularly Italy-ward.

Now we get down to Japan. Nobody mentions the possibility of any allowances for the Japs. Italy? Terms?—unconditional surrender, but gentle treatment afterward.

Germany? Terms? Unconditional surrender. Then occupation of the country, followed by its re-education from the ground up. The hope is for Fuehrer Hitler's assassination by his own brood. Otherwise he will be a problem. The initial solution will be nice, but it is a gamble.

Benito can be exiled or some such thing. It will be hard to dismiss Adolf with anything short of a capital penalty—and how try him, internationally?

Those Japs are not a single dictator, backed up by a small group. Their military group is small, so be sure. Nevertheless, it is what might be described as a sizeable political party.

Killing Fuehrer Hitler could be an assassination. Killing Duce Mussolini could be an execution. Wiping out the Japs' Samurai, though, would be a massacre. Mikado Hirohito is only figurative. His gang is not subject to him. It manipulates him. And it is not a small gang, like Adolf's, or a still smaller one, like Benito's. It is a predominant aristocracy. It isn't a majority, but it bosses the job.

The "hol polloi" falls for it. It is a survival from the dark ages. And it is perfectly willing to commit suicide—and take the country down into oblivion with it!

I speak as an old resident of Japan. The civilized crew there are all to the good to live among, but the civilized ones haven't much to say.

It is easy enough to talk about civilized Italians. It is comparatively easy to talk about civilized Germany. It is not so easy to apply the term to Japan.

Col. E. E. Alling Speaks To Nurses

Shenango Replacement Depot Surgeon Heard At Nurse Recruitment Meeting

RECRUITING EFFORT IN THREE COUNTIES

"Nurses in the War" was the subject on which Col. Emory E. Alling, camp surgeon at Shenango Personnel Replacement Depot, spoke to an audience of nurses of New Castle, student nurses of Jameson Memorial hospital and New Castle hospital, and a number of guests in the auditorium of the Y. W. C. A. Friday evening at a public rally which was staged as the highlight of the drive to recruit nurses for army and navy service now underway in Lawrence, Beaver and Butler counties.

Message of welcome from the Red Cross was extended by Mrs. John E. Elliott, chairman of Volunteer Services, who then introduced Mrs. Helen Vanderaar, chairman of the nurses recruitment committee for Lawrence, Beaver and Butler counties.

Nurses Speak

Other speakers were Lieut. Elizabeth Hartman, R. N., stationed in Pittsburgh, whose topic was "Army Nursing", and Lieut. Katherine Witmer, head nurse at Shenango Depot, who described army nurses uniforms as modeled by nurses from the camp.

Col. Alling in telling what the army expects of its nurses and what nurses may expect of the army, warned nurses against entering the service with the idea that they can pick their assignments or enter for a lark but set forth the opportunities and advantages of an army nurse's life.

Model Uniforms

Lieut. Katherine Witmer, herself wearing the very light beige summer suit that is the army nurse's summer dress uniform, pointed out details of uniforms modeled by Miss Edith Torkington, Mrs. Mary Kokol and Miss Regina Lazorchick. The former wore the light beige summer dress that is for evenings or informal occasions when off duty; Miss Lazorchick, the olive drab uniform which is gradually to replace the uniform of two shades of blue as modeled by Mrs. Kokol, that army nurses have been wearing and will continue wearing until replaced.

Winter uniforms and white duty dresses were also described by the speaker, who told which articles of clothing are issued to nurses and which they purchased out of their allowances. Suitable clothing appropriate for climatic conditions is issued to nurses ordered overseas.

A Red Cross moving picture, "No Greater Glory", depicted the service nurses are rendering to the armed forces. It was shown by Norman Freeborne of the Penn theater. Singing of the national anthem concluded the program.

Out-of-town guests present for the rally, in addition to those from Shenango Personnel Replacement Depot and Lieut. Witmer, were Miss Jessie Herr, executive secretary of the Pittsburgh chapter of the Red Cross, and Mrs. Jean Dowdell, executive secretary of the American Red Cross, and Miss Grace LeCates, chairman of nurses recruitment in Beaver Falls.

In many sections of the South three successive tree crops have already been harvested from land which 60 years ago was growing cotton, but which was replanted in trees by nature when the cotton farmers abandoned the acreage as "worn out."

tion from the OPA. It also should be said that if it were not for the incompetency of so many men named by the President to key positions in the war organization, no such bill as this could have passed the Senate. The thing that enabled Democrats partially to save their faces in voting for it is the mess which the poorly equipped Roosevelt appointees have made of their jobs.

IT IS that which furnished the excuse and the somewhat absurd speech of the soulful Mr. Elmer Davis, made before the CIO-affiliated Newspaper Guild, defending the bureaucrats and deploring newspaper comments on the Administration muddling and bickering, has not diminished the value of the excuse, but enhanced it. This silly insistence that muddling and bickering are trivial and criticism of it unworthy, if not wicked, would come better from some other bureaucrat than Mr. Davis, whose own OWI organization has been so riddled with dissensions that whole resignations resulted and in which the muddling has been notorious and unconcealed.

CONSIDERING these things, it does seem that though neither Mr. Roosevelt nor the Republicans are in position to be holy or horrified about the politics and patronage of the McKeller bill, it still is a measure the Senate should have been ashamed to pass and which, if the House does not kill, the President should.

in ceiling prices which have been so often made by the Bureau. Now, when John L. Lewis absolutely disregards the law and the rulings of the War Labor Board and the orders of the President, nothing seems to be done about it. The House of Representatives has approved a bill punishing any Labor Leader like Lewis for calling a strike at any time until the war is at an end. As a punishment for the violation of this Act, there is provided a slap on the wrist—an insignificant punishment compared to the punishment threatened for a violation of the misuse of any certificate. And although this Act is not a drastic one in any sense of the word, Mr. Murray of the C. I. O. and Mr. Green of the A. F. L. have intimidated all sorts of things if it becomes a law.

It looks very much as though the government fostered by the New Deal was ready to turn this nation over, body, soul and bristles to the Labor Leaders.

JOHNSON BRONZE LOOKS TO THE FUTURE

The Automotive Industry

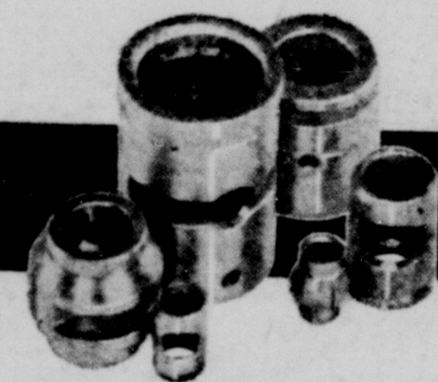

The two events most Americans are looking forward to are . . . unconditional surrender of our enemies and the new automobiles that will follow. New materials . . . new methods of manufacturing will bring radical departures from what we have had in the past . . . will set new standards of luxury and economy in transportation.

Johnson SLEEVE TYPE Bearings will fill an important role in these new models. From the very beginning of the Automotive Industry, Johnson Bronze has remained a preferred source of supply for bushings and bearings. To this vast accumulation of experience we now add the lessons we have learned from the war. As a result the new car you buy will give you greater performance . . . longer life . . . smooth, quiet operation . . . all at a lower cost.

Here is another example of post war activity you will see at Johnson Bronze. Unlike many manufacturers, we have no conversion problem. Changing from war production to peace time products simply means a new set of blue prints. Our equipment and manufacturing methods will remain fundamentally the same. This is why Johnson Bronze will continue to grow . . . to expand . . . to provide steady employment to the citizens of our community.

WE'LL KEEP 'EM ROLLING BUT IT TAKES CO-OPERATION

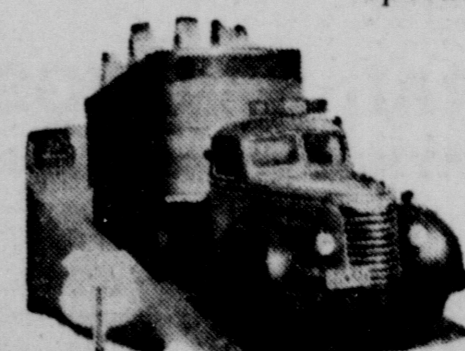

This war is a war of speed—speed in production—speed in transportation—speed of tanks and planes and ships—and all of it means co-operation by all of us, with victory as the final goal.

The trucking industry is doing a grand job of delivering the goods, even in the face of increasing restrictions as to manpower, gasoline and equipment. Every trucking mile that is saved now is saved for a future day when it will be needed more.

Shippers and receivers both want their merchandise moved promptly—Uncle Sam wants his orders moved at top speed. Realizing this, a plan has been worked out whereby shippers and receivers in metropolitan areas are co-operating with truck companies in getting their merchandise onto and off the tracks. It means the saving of manpower and equipment. It means added speed to deliveries. The plan is endorsed by the Interstate Commerce and the office of Defense Transportation.

Here in Lawrence County the plan is to be presented to shippers and receivers. We believe it is a logical one that will prove to be mutually advantageous. We know that a pile of war material in a warehouse will not shoot a Jap. The faster it is moved, the faster it will be delivered to the fighting front.

We believe shippers and receivers will want to co-operate in this new plan.

Visit To Deshon Hospital Would Alter Your Ideas Of War's Inconveniences

So you think you are inconvenienced by the war?
Your pleasure driving has been cut short, beef is rationed and hard to get, taxes are up and they even have you out working in a garden. It's a tough war!

Oh yeah!
Any time you begin shedding any crocodile tears over your inconvenienced plight, and you get any ideas that this war is tough upon civilians a little trip over to the Deshon Hospital near Butler would certainly cure those ideas.

There's a group of men in the hospital whom the war has inconvenienced but in a different way. Men who have been through the fighting in the Solomons and New Guinea, men who bore the brunt in North Africa and who were laid low by Axis bullets, bomb raids and nervous exhaustion brought on by protracted duty in the field.

Cure For Civilian War Jitters
A visit to the Deshon hospital is the most certain cure we can think of for civilian war jitters. The men who are convalescing there want to talk. They want to talk about baseball and raising petunias, and the advantages of the Vanderbilt convention in bridge. They want to talk of music and art and politics of shoes and ships and sealing wax. In fact they want to talk about anything but the war and where they got their wounds. Mention the war or ask them to tell you about their wounds and they become as uncommunicative as a cigar store Indian.

They like the hospital and this you can understand after taking a look at it. The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania did a job when it built this hospital. Uncle Sam has gone farther and added facilities and today it is regarded by Army medical men as one of the finest Army hospitals in the United States. Indeed the officers of the hospital go the limit and say it is the finest period.

Just how many men are in the hospital, we are not permitted to say. If you're going to ask for you aren't going to be told anyway. But there are a lot of lads over there. Lads from Kansas and Oklahoma, from Tennessee and the Carolinas, from New York and Massachusetts and all of them getting the best medical and surgical attention money can buy.

Built By State
The hospital was originally built by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania as a tuberculosis hospital. Before it was ever occupied, the Federal government took it over for a military hospital and in the past few months new buildings have been added and barracks erected for the permanent personnel. The name Deshon is a memorial to the late

Lieutenant-Colonel George Durphes Deshon whose service to his country are remembered by the medical corps with pride.

The entire plant is about as fireproof as human ingenuity can make it. About the only thing that could burn is the flooring and a few wooden rafters and these are protected by automatic sprinkler systems. The rest of the plant is stone and brick and steel and glass.

Commanding the hospital is Colonel C. J. Gentzkow, a Minnesotan who has served his country for many years. The basis on his uniform jacket tell that story. Col. Gentzkow is more than just a medical officer, he is an administrator with a huge job on his hands but he is doing the job and doing it well. Under him are medical officers of all rank and abilities, medical specialists, surgeons, roentgenologists, diagnostic specialists, psychiatrists, all of them doing a job that the medical world will someday record with pride and distinction.

Opportunity To Aid
After visiting the Deshon hospital we came away with an idea that there is an opportunity for civilian help there. The men in the hospital need entertainment, the hospital should own its own motion picture projection machine, films must be rented, for motion picture entertainment, sun parlors must be furnished, and a lot of little comforts that appeal to convalescing men can be furnished.

This article isn't especially informative as to how many men are in the hospital, what types of treatment are used or what they eat for breakfast. It wasn't intended to be. It was intended to be a suggestion that thirty miles from New Castle are a lot of lads who have been inconvenienced more than you'll ever know.

Says Surcharge
His Own Money
(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, June 19.—John A. Metz, veteran solicitor for the near-by Dormont school board, today declared that auditors who assessed him $5,280.45 for alleged shortages are seeking to surcharge him with his own money.

Metz explained that he kept his own private funds and the funds of the school district together in a personal bank account.
"The auditors have surcharged me with my own money," Metz charged. "Every cent of the tax money collected was deposited and paid monthly by me to the treasurer of the Dormont school district."

WRENS REFUSE TO VACATE

Monday morning, Harry Cameron, who resides on John C. McMillin's place at Hickory Creek, North Beaver township, discovered that a pair of wrens had taken possession of his trousers hanging out on the clothes line while he was confined to the house with illness for about a month. They used the pocket of one of the trousers for a nest and raised seven young. Later this week Mr. Cameron noticed Mr. and Mrs. Wren taking out the young to shift for themselves. Thinking that now he might secure his pants he went to get them, but found on looking in the pocket an egg in the nest there. The birds were still "doing business at the old stand". So Harry has kindly decided to wait for their convenience.

Brooklyn Loses Fifth Straight Game

FALTERING DODGERS WASTE 8-RUN LEAD; BUCS LOSE IN 14th, 1-0

Phillies Pull Unexpected, Overcome Big Lead; Starr Bests Butcher

YANKEES LOSE; CLEVELAND WINS

By JOHN CASHMAN
(International News Service Writer)

NEW YORK, June 19.—

The Brooklyn Dodgers, once the ruthless wreckers of the National League, are today in a state bordering on complete collapse. They are still in second place, but third is looming large and with the apparent crumbling of that skill and power upon which the Dodgers placed their pennant hopes, fourth place or fifth is not too far away.

That the Dodgers are breaking up in the tough going was evident yesterday when they blew an eight-run lead to lose to the Philadelphia Phillies, 10 to 8. It was the fifth straight loss for the Dodgers, and their seventh in the last nine starts. The explosion in yesterday's game completely shattered the last vestige of Brooklyn pitching power, as twirlers Rube Melton, Curt Davis and Ed Head were reached for nine hits, nine runs and the ball game.

Up to the sixth-inning landslide the Phillies were trailing, 8 to 0. Buster Adams started that frame with a triple, and delivered a double on his second trip to the platter with the bases filled to score three more.

Gordon Errors

However, gloom was not the portion of the Dodgers alone yesterday. Joe Gordon, one of the greatest second basemen of all time, gave the Boston Red Sox three unearned runs on two errors and a triumph over the New York Yankees, 3 to 1. The Yankees were leading 1 to 0 in the fourth when Gordon dropped Catcher Ken Seft's good throw on Tony Lupien's single. A pass to Bobby Doerr and singles by Eddie Lake and Tex Hughson brought in the deciding runs.

The Red Sox collected their third run in the ninth when Gordon fumbled Miles' grounder with two out. Ervin Fox singled and Babe Barna doubled to give Boston the tally. Hughson went the route for the Red Sox, allowing only four hits.

The greatest mound duel of the season was staged between the Cincinnati Reds' Ray Starr and the Pittsburgh Pirates' Max Butcher in the Reds' 14-inning conquest, 1 to 0.

A triple by Lonnie Frey in the fourteenth, followed by an intentional pass to Estel Crabtree and Gee Walker's single, provided the winning run. Starr allowed only five hits.

Stephens Homers Twice

Two homers by Vern Stephens gave the St. Louis Browns a 7 to 4 triumph over the Detroit Tigers. With the score tied, 1 to 1, Stephens slashed out his circuit clout in the third with one aboard, to give the Browns a lead Detroit never endangered. Stephens followed with another homer in the seventh.

The Cleveland Indians won a 14-inning ball game when they defeated the White Sox in Chicago last night, 5 to 3. Edgar Smith went all the way for Chicago, allowing 11 hits. The Indians used three hurlers. Al Smith, Pete Center and Vern Kennedy who was given the win.

At St. Louis the Cardinals dropped a 6 to 1 game to the Chicago Cubs in a night game. After one run in the second frame the Cards were not able to score again, allowing 5 errors to Chicago's none.

In a slow game at Washington, the Senators copped a win from the Philadelphia Athletics which they took 4 to 2. Connie Mack's men score 10 hits to the Senators' 6, but failed to make good on them.

North Carolina, during the Revolutionary War, furnished approximately 22,000 men for service.

Lincoln Fields

To Close Today

CHICAGO, June 19.—The $5,000 Lincoln handicap at a mile and a quarter features the final day of Lincoln Field's 30 day program today, with four horses entered in the event.

Aletern, long winded stretch runner owned by A. C. Ernst and the handicap star of the meet, is the favorite to win the event.

Best Seller, carrying 115 or 7 less than the Aletern, is second choice, although he appeared in Friday's six-furlong feature and finished second, a half length behind Occupation.

Sports Ramblings

Lot of sports stuff tossed together:—

In plain unembellished English, this is a plea to the baseball clientele to dig down when the fedora is passed around during City loop games. With June preparing to give way to July, every loop member, save possibly the Elders, have scribbled their books with red ink. Moguls are as puzzled as Mussolini trying to figure out why New Castleites are willing to support the pastime from an attendance standpoint but stubbornly decline to drop as much as a thin dime at collection time.

One of the plaintiffs, in outlining his case, pointed out that a host team faces a close to $10 nut, provided the team escapes breaking a bat or two and someone doesn't go over the hill with any of the balls. "Out of a crowd of 200, you're mighty lucky to get enough to pay the ump, that's how bad it is. I once got 35 cents out of more than 100 persons. These same fans shell out for other entertainment, but won't budge at the park," lamented the official.

The City league is a non-profit making organization. The loop is sponsored by baseball loving citizens who expect no financial returns. In this war year, many communities throughout the nation crawled out of baseball. The localities couldn't see the same light because they believed that the game would be a remedy for the tired working man. If for no other reason, the teams deserve a break. So how's about it?

After all these weeks of Gunder Haegg this and Gunder Haegg that, he'll be unveiled to the public tomorrow. I still like Rice, whether it's in my soup or on the track. Those two pushovers Galento met must have inserted a "I can like anybody" attitude into Roly Poly. Tony by now has learned that you can't beat the guy wearing the silver badge. That row won't help Tony's popularity.

Joe Bowman, the ex-Pirate high hand heaver, has been sent to the Lookouts of Chattanooga by St. Paul. Bing Crosby, who has a lot of fans, has contributed one of his loudest golf shirts to the "Overseas Sports Museum". Al Hollingsworth, the vet Browns' pitcher, has a defeatist complex. The guy has lost seven in a row. Do you blame him? If you don't believe in the law of averages, look at Thursday's scores. Cleveland won two.

Pro Gridiron Session Begins

Loop Receives Franchise Bids; Moguls Study Merger Plan

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, June 19.—Representatives of the nine club members of the National Professional Football League began a two-day meeting this morning in Chicago, with club members and bids for franchises among the principal items of business.

Definite bids for franchises to operate in Buffalo, N. Y., and Boston will be presented to League Commissioner Elmer Layden and other officials. Overtures are also being made for a Baltimore entry.

The Boston bid will be made by William A. Shea, New York attorney, and Ted Collins, business manager of Radio Star Kate Smith. Don Ameche, Hollywood film star, made formal application to operate in Buffalo. Bids for both cities were covered by the required $25,000 certified check.

A double scramble appeared on rights to enter a team from Baltimore. Harry M. White, president of the North American Oil company, and Edgar Allen Poe, board chairman, were reported to have written Layden expressing desire for Baltimore's pro football rights after the war. The other inquiry was from Arthur E. Ehlers, president of the Interstate Baseball league, and was made earlier. Nothing has been heard from him since.

The question of merging some of the clubs' teams for the war's duration was advanced by Pittsburgh and Philadelphia.

Opposition to their merger plan was assured as representatives of the other clubs expressed disapproval. There were also hints that the Chicago Bears and Chicago Cardinals were considering some form of amalgamation. Approval by an 8 to 1 vote is necessary before such mergers.

QUICK PICKUPS:

By LAWTON CARVER

(International News Service Editor)
NEW YORK, June 19.—Word had just arrived from Canada saying that officials had withdrawn permission for Pvt. Johnny Greco to meet lightweight champion Bob Armstrong here the latter part of next week, when Al Weill stepped into a discussion and said:

"Sure, that means another fight—tied up for the duration, but I've got one to take his place—Lew Hanbury. He will be appearing in New York soon. He's just a baby yet in experience with only 11 pro fights and less than 30 in the amateurs, but when the day comes that he boxes for the title there will be a new champion."

Experience Limited
Normally a 19-year-old fighter from Washington with so little experience would cause a concerted lack of interest, but some remember the days when Weill was extolling the then unknown Luigi D'Ambrasio, a quick alert little guy who had been fighting under the strange title of Otis Paradise in the bootleg amateurs. As Lou Ambers he beat Tony Canzonieri for the lightweight championship, split a pair of title decisions in grueling battles with Henry Armstrong and for about six years was among the best little men of recent times.

"The toughest fight of Hanbury's career is coming up at Washington on June 28 when he meets Jackie Wilson, the former featherweight champion. Weill said, 'If he wins that one, we will be ready to go.'"

Unique in that he comes along as a new fighter in times when they are as scarce as ice cream in a highball, Hanbury is a Navy yard employe and leaves his work only to weigh in a fight. He may, too, be in the local pugilistic jig-saw puzzle. He holds a decision over Jackie Cal-

DODDS FEATURES TODAY'S PROGRAM

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, June 19.—Randall's Island sporting arena in New York's East River just above Hell Gate, today will reverberate to the cheers of spectators witnessing a wartime decimated 55th annual National A. U. championship track meet.

Highlight of the two-day session, of course, will be the cinder performance of Gunder Haegg, sensational Swedish runner who tomorrow will toe the line with Greg Rice, stubby, barrel-chested Notre Dame alumnus, current holder of the 5,000-meter title. Others, however, who are not on active duty, will also feature in the race.

High spot of the opening session today will be the 1,500-meter event, in which Gil Dodds of the Boston A. A., who will defend his crown.

Dodds in Feature
Running against Dodds are Don Burnham of Dartmouth, intercollegiate AAAA and national collegiate AA ruler; Bill Hulise, metropolitan AA champion, and Bob Porter of Rice Institute, Texas, who is the southwest's conference titleholder.

Down from the Navy flight school at Loudonville, N. Y., will be Lt. Joe McCluskey, ex-Fordham grad and veteran New York A. C. star, who will defend his 10,000-meter senior title. His chief opponent will be Forrest Eissaw of Oklahoma A. and M. Midshipmen's school.

Other defending champions up to show their stuff today are Harold Davis, holder of the 400-meter mark; Pvt. George DeGeorge, champ in the 3,000-meter steeplechase, and Bill Cummins, of 110-meter high hurdles fame.

Penguins And Dean Park Dodgers Win

Penguins and Dean Park Dodgers won their contests in the American Legion Junior league Friday evening, the former eking out a win over Cozy Corners by a score of 7-5 while the Dodgers beat Forest Cubs, 10-5.

J. Zeigler, hurling for the Cozy Corners, deserved a better fate than befell him, holding the Penguins to five hits while his mates were gathering 10, but seven errors behind him proved too big a handicap to overcome.

R. Liebenfelder, of Dean Park, kept the hits well scattered while his teammates battered Fox for 11 bingles. Panella, R. Liebenfelder and H. Liebenfelder starred at bat for the winners, while Vanassa, of the losers, was the only player to annex more than one blow.

Fannins went good against the Wolverines, winning by a score of 11-4. Webber and Jenkins leading at bat for the winners, while Tanner, Mills and Golls had seven of the Wolverines' eight hits between them.

The scores:

The big pitcher was acquired from Toronto of the International league during the past winter and was regarded as one of the most promising young hurlers on the Bucco staff.

Triple Murder And Suicide Is Police Verdict

(International News Service)
SCRANTON, Pa., June 19.—Police today termed the crime which wiped out the Davis family—father, mother and two daughters—at White's Crossing, small Carbondale township hamlet about 25 miles from Scranton, a triple murder and suicide.

The bodies of the four victims were found yesterday by neighbors. The police said George Davis, 34, shot to death his wife, 31, and his daughters Lois Jean, 10, and Diane, 2, with a pump gun and then committed suicide by sending a bullet through his heart with the same weapon. The motive for the crime was unknown.

As authorities reconstructed the crime, Davis shot his wife and two children Thursday night as they were apparently preparing to retire. Davis' body was found in one room and those of his three victims in another. He was said to have been employed by an engineering firm near his home for the past 18 years.

DEWEY REJECTS LAGUARDIA APPEAL FOR MORE REVENUE

(International News Service)
ALBANY, N. Y., June 19.—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey Friday flatly rejected an urgent appeal by Mayor LaGuardia of New York City that he call an extraordinary session of the legislature, before June 25, to give the metropolis power to raise "permanently additional revenue other than the tax from real estate."

The mayor, in letters dated June 14 and June 15, told the governor that unless such power is granted by state law, a 10 point increase in the city's basic real estate tax rate will be necessary.

The present rate is 2.79. Mayor LaGuardia said the new rate will be in the neighborhood of 2.89.

COMMUNITY UP IN ARMS AGAINST GARDEN VANDALS

(International News Service)
LARCHMONT, N. Y., June 19.—Residents of this community will make short shrift of anyone who despoils a victory garden even if it is planted and tended by Japanese.

Townfolk today were up in arms because a vandal during the night trampled and slashed every seedling planted by Tom Hatsumoto. Many in sympathy have offered to replant the plot with growths from their own garden.

P. S. Toru is a Japanese with distinctly pro-American ideas.

BRITISH RATIONS MAKE OURS SEEM VERY LUXURIOUS

Letter From Great Britain
Tells Of Stringent War
Allowances There

Proof that our country is far from feeling the pinch of war yet is seen in a report on conditions in England as stated in a letter received by L. J. Lewis, of Clemmore boulevard recently. Compared with the British we are luxuriously fed and clothed—our point system for food is liberal and clothes are still ours for the buying.

A total of 60 points is allowed in England for clothes for a 14-month period. When you consider that a woman's dress is 11 points and a man's suit 26 points, it is plain that 60 points will not go far. Besides, prices of clothing and shoes have soared. Even handkerchiefs and stockings are rationed; if a woman bought two pairs of stockings a month, she would have nothing left for any other item of clothing.

In the food line, Britishers are allowed 20 points a month per person. We have 64. In England, if one bought one pound of raisins (16 points) and a pound of rice (4 points), one's ration for the month would be gone. Canned fish and meat range between 4 and 32 points per tin.

Fish shops have almost gone out of business owing to the shortage and government control of the fishing industry. Each person may buy 22 cents worth of meat per week. Meat, butter, cheese and other items are not under the point system. You just cannot buy more than two ounces of butter a week, or eight ounces of sugar, or four ounces of cheese, or two pints of milk or three ounces of candy. Eggs are not even mentioned in the list, except in dried form, of which you can buy one tin per month. For fresh eggs you need a great deal of luck and perseverance.

You may buy three ounces of soap a week. As the writer says, items outside the point or ration lists "aren't" as you please, but rather, get what you can. Bread and flour are not rationed.

There is no gasoline at all unless you can prove absolute necessity or government business.

Wavell Appointed Viceroy Of India

General Auchinleck Fills Wavell's Former Post Of Commander-In-Chief

(International News Service)
LONDON, June 19.—Field Marshal Percival Wavell, hero of the first successful British offensive in North Africa, on Friday was appointed viceroy and governor-general of India, succeeding the Marquess of Linlithgow.

Wavell's former post of allied commander-in-chief in India was taken by Gen. Sir Claude J. E. Auchinleck, Wavell's successor in the North African theatre whose place in turn had been taken by victorious Gen. Sir Harold R. L. G. Alexander.

Field Marshal Wavell, who now is in England, will vacate his job as military commander-in-chief forthwith and will take up the viceroyship in the fall. Gen. Auchinleck therefore becomes commander-in-chief immediately.

An official statement announcing the appointment said it was proposed to relieve the commander-in-chief of India of responsibility concerning conduct of the war against Japan and to establish a separate East India command.

Further announcement in this regard will be made shortly, and will doubtless identify the general chosen by the British government to prosecute far eastern military operations.

Lewisburg Children Held For Larceny

(International News Service)
LEWISBURG, Pa., June 19.—Ten young Lewisburg boys and girls were being held today for arraignment Monday in Union county juvenile court to answer to charges of larceny.

The children, ranging in age from 11 to 13 years, were released meanwhile in their parents' custody. Police officials said they were members of a youthful "gang" which had been engaged in a "wave" of depredations.

One boy, apparently the ring-leader, was reported to have stolen a sum of money amounting to about $50 from a local dentist's office. Others purloined a bicycle and hand cart, selling the articles later.

Police officials said that in practically all instances the children were members of families where both parents are working and have little surveillance over them.

MILK
Children and young people should use at least one quart of milk every day. Adults should use at least one pint.

This does not mean that each person must drink that much milk. It means that the milk can be used in a variety of dishes. Cooked milk is just as good as raw milk.

You get the vitamins and minerals whether you eat it or drink it.

Intruding Bear Is Socked On Nose By Soldier In Alaska

Army Engineers Working On Alcan Highway Fight
Bear Bare-Handed

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, June 19.—The army engineers who built the Alaska military highway were so tough they could fight bears bare-handed.

One such rugged soldier did, according to Brig. Gen. C. L. Sturdevant, who planned the American end of the 1,671 mile highway which was built in a phenomenally short time.

"Two sergeants from an engineering regiment working on the road," said General Sturdevant, "were swimming in a river up there in Canada one day. They were splashing around when a bear jumped into the water from the opposite bank."

"The bear started to swim toward them. One sergeant jumped right out of the water. But the bear caught the other sergeant where the water was about waist deep."

"This second sergeant didn't know what to do. So he turned around and lammed the bear a good one on the snout. That's a very tender spot on a bear. The old bear reached over and clawed the sergeant across the forehead and chest. The sergeant slugged the bear again on the nose and the bear let out a yell and swam away."

This was just one of the many difficulties encountered by the 10,000 troops and 6,000 civilian laborers who averaged six miles a day on the highway, completed between April and Nov. 15, 1942.

General Sturdevant disclosed that the engineers bridged 200 streams running from small creeks to 1,000 foot rivers and worked under temperatures ranging from 35 below zero to summer heat depending on the season.
